MILITIA IS CALLED OUT TO END GREAT STRIKE

Last Word to the Voters of Alameda County

The primary election tomorrow means a great deal to the voters of Alameda county. Every elector should look carefully over his ballot and know the character of the man for whom he is voting. It goes without saying that every taxpayer should vote for the best interests of the county. A few suggestions are herewith given regarding some of the candidates for office:

It is stated on the best authority that in the event of Thomas M. Robinson being nominated for County Clerk at the coming primary election that, Walter B. Fawcett, political secretary of the Board of Public Works, who has been doing politics for the last year, will be appointed his chief deputy.

County Clerk Cook has made one of the most efficient officials that this county has ever had. Year by year the different grand juries for the past eight years have commended his work.

Two years ago District Attorney Donahue had his experts make a full and complete investigation of Mr. Cook's office, as a result of which the Bendel Grand Jury reported that it was the best conducted County Clerk's office in all of California.

The election of F. P. Morse in the annexed district means that Walter Fawcett, his political manager, will have the call on him to put in line to do whatever the machine requires of it. It also means that the people of the annexed district will have taken away from them their last supporter and advocate, because it is a well-known fact that Supervisor Bridge stands as the representative of the people in that district and that is why the city hall gang is trying to defeat him. Walter Fawcett has been making Mr. Morse's fight and has lined up every saloon keeper, policeman and city employee in and out of the annexed district with threats and otherwise in an effort to try and defeat Mr. Bridge.

Louis Schafer, who is running for Supervisor against Supervisor J. M. Kelley, is the same Louis Schafer who was a member of the notorious boodle Council during the city's great battle with the Contra Costa Water Company. Mr. Schafer was never found wanting when the water company wanted his vote. His record as City Councilman speaks for itself and it is probable that every voter in his district knows it.

The contest between Senator Frank W. Leavitt and Edward J. Tyrrell is a very bitter one. Mr. Tyrrell is being urged by the city hall machine; every employee of the city has been given his orders that if they do not vote and work for him they have been told they will lose their positions. The fight has resolved itself down to the question as to whether the city hall machine or the people will name the candidate for Senator in this district. Mr. Leavitt has made a straight and honorable contest and his friends today announce that he will be elected beyond a doubt.

The contest between I. H. Clay and Henry Dalton for County Assessor has been a very interesting one. Mr. Clay is a business man, a member of the Chamber of Commerce and one of Oakland's leading citizens. His honesty is unquestioned. He has pledged himself to the people, and if elected Assessor he will do away with all side graft in the Assessor's office and give a fair and honest assessment. Mr. Dalton is backed by practically every large corporation in the city. He has spent thousands of dollars in this contest, while Mr. Clay has had absolutely no financial support. The taxpayers can draw their own conclusions.

WATERBURY, N. Y., Aug. 15.—Seven Italian laborers were killed and a number injured by the collapse today of a portion of a dam of the T. A. Gies company, at Mesena, on the big power canal. The injured were taken to a hospital at Cornwall, Ont.

IMPORT $250,000,000
WORTH OF LUXURIES;
GOODBYE, PESSIMIST

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—Two hundred and fifty million dollars' worth of articles classed as luxuries were imported into the United States during the fiscal year 1910, that total exceeding by more than $25,000,000 the figures of 1907, the former high record year, and being more than double those of 1906, according to the statistics of the Department of Commerce and Labor.

DENTIST FLEES
WITH PRETTY
DIVORCEE,
IS REPORT

Wife of Dr. Julian Jackson
Asks the Police to Locate Him.

MRS. JEANNE ROBBINS
HAS LEFT HOME

Mexico Is Destination According to Friends Who Revel in Alleged Scandal.

The simultaneous disappearance of Dr. Julian Jackson, a prominent dentist with offices at 1067 Washington street, and Mrs. Jeanne Robbins, a pretty divorcee of 610 Fourteenth street, has aroused the suspicions of their friends that the two have eloped. The report was made two weeks ago to the police of the departure of Jackson by the dentist's wife, who lives at 24 Loretta street, but it was not until today that rumors began to associate the names of the two people together.

At the dentist's home Mrs. Jackson states that she knows nothing of her husband's whereabouts, but is anxious for his disappearance should be given no publicity. At his office Dr. George Derrick, for whom Mrs. Robbins has acted in the capacity as head nurse and assistant for the last six years, states that Dr. Jackson has gone to Mexico and will be away several years.

MOTHER IS AMAZED.

Mrs. James Morris, the mother of Mrs. Robbins, who is the proprietor of the Oxford apartments at 610 Fourteenth street, says that her daughter left for Los Angeles a week ago Tuesday and was amazed today when she was told of the rumor concerning the name of her daughter with that of Dr. Jackson.

She said, however, Dr. Jackson had been in the habit of going out with her daughter to the theaters and dances and she had not known he was a married man and was much surprised to learn of the turn the affair had taken.

That the dentist and his alleged affinity are in the southern part of the state is indicated by a letter received by Mrs. Morris Thursday from her daughter and postmarked Los Angeles, in which a story of many trips to California and Pasadena is told.

DIVORCED TWO YEARS AGO.

Mrs. Robbins, who is a very attractive woman, has been separated from her husband for about eleven years, but obtained her divorce only two years ago. She came known to a large number of people about three years ago when her little boy, Clyde Robbins, who is now 11 years old, was kidnapped by his father from the sisters. Another at Red Bluff and taken to Canada. It was only after the authorities had been asked to help the woman and after the Catholic church had brought its influence to bear that Robbins was forced to return the child.

Mrs. Robbins has since been living with her mother at 610 Fourteenth street, and has been employed by Dr. George Derrick. Dr. Derrick's office is just across the hall at 1067 Washington street from the dental offices of Dr. Jackson, and it was through being thrown into continual conversation with Mrs. Robbins and Dr. Jackson flowered into the romance which has culminated in the alleged runaway.

STRIKING IN APPEARANCE.

Dr. Jackson, according to Mrs. Morris has been in the habit of visiting her daughter and taking her out. The girl is a very handsome brunette and, with the doctor, who is also of striking appearance, she has been the object of considerable comment at theater parties and cafes.

It is rumored that there were difficulties between Dr. Jackson and his wife, although he is said to have been very fond of his little five-year-old son whom he brought to the office very often. Since the first report two weeks ago of the departure of Dr. Jackson was made at the hands of the police to trace the no further requests have been made couple, and it is thought that the mat-

'ALL GOSSIP; BAKER IS ONLY FRIEND'—MRS. M'KIM
Newest Addition to Divorcee Role Refuses to Tell Her Intentions to Anyone, However

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 15.—"It's all gossip," said Mrs. Marga of Emerson McKim. "There's absolutely no truth in it, and the report is only circulated as a sensation."

Mrs. McKim had just arrived at the St. Francis Hotel having obtained her divorce from Dr. Smith Julius McKim in Reno Saturday. She had left the Nevada mecca for mis-mated couples last night and guests and the story over the tea table had it that there might be something doing as the result of a great deal of attention paid her by Ray Baker, a wealthy mining man of Nevada, and prominent in society in Alameda county, where he was formerly in the county clerk's office.

So far did the rumors of friendship ripening into love spread that it was thought there might be a trip to the county clerk's office here before the instant departure of Mrs. McKim for Honolulu tomorrow.

"Mr. Baker is an old friend," said Mrs. McKim, "but there is absolutely nothing to this story. He came out here to see his mother, whom he has not visited for a long time, and went out on one to Oakland. I intend going to Honolulu as has been my avowed plan."

Mrs. McKim would make no mention of any trouble or legal steps which might be expected from her husband from whom the court has now freed her, indicating by a sweep of the hand that she thought them mere vague rumors. As to whether she intended to soon embark once more upon the sea of matrimony, she would make no statement, but her friend and companion, Baroness de Chaboulin, declared positively that there was no one now hovering near who might be termed a dangerous suitor.

SENTENCE HORSETHIEF LEROY TO SEVEN YEARS IN PRISON

A telegram received today by Sheriff Barnett from the sheriff of Sonoma county states that J. B. Leroy, alias El-Hott, the horsethief whose depredations in Alameda county kept the authorities busy chasing him for more than a year, has been sentenced to the penitentiary at San Quentin in the Superior Court at Redwood City for seven years. He pleaded guilty to grand larceny.

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—The New York police have taken steps to prevent the exhibition here of any moving picture reproductions of the shooting of Mayor Gaynor.

It was learned today that the police commissioner has issued orders to inspectors, captains and patrolmen to watch all moving picture theaters within their jurisdiction for announcements of such reproductions and also to notify the proprietors and managers of such places in advance that any reproduction of the shooting of Mayor Gaynor will not be tolerated.

The police of several other cities have indicated that they will take similar steps, it is said.

DALTON FEARS DEFEAT AND ASKS
BOURBONS FOR THEIR NOMINATION

If Turned Down for the Republican Nomination He Will Attempt to Give the Party Candidate a Battle for the Office of Assessor; Sends Letter to All Democrats

One of the most remarkable documents ever issued during a political campaign in this county is being circulated by deputies in the office of County Assessor Dalton. The document calls upon the Democratic voters of Alameda county to nominate Mr. Dalton Assessor on the Democratic ticket.

Dalton, of course, has had the whole affair arranged and it would appear to an outsider that the County Assessor, feeling that he may possibly be defeated by Mr. Clay for the Republican nomination, is preparing to turn Democrat.

It is stated that in the event that Dalton gets the Democratic nomination he will turn over to the Democratic committee, in case of election, nearly all his deputies and that in case he gets the Republican and Democratic nomination it is asserted that he has agreed to allow the Democrats to name half of the deputies to be appointed in his office.

It will be remembered that the Democratic party has a regular candidate running for the office of Assessor, Warren B. English, a lifelong Democrat.

It is for this reason that the letter issued on Mr. Dalton's behalf by certain members of the Democratic committee has caused widespread astonishment among all classes of voters in the county.

No candidate running for office in the history of politics in Alameda county has had the nerve presented by County Assessor Dalton to seek the Democratic and Republican nominations at the same time, being a good Republican to one class of citizens and a good Democrat to another class.

The Democratic letter speaks for itself and is as follows:

"To the Democratic voters of Alameda County. Your vote is important.

"Mr. H. F. Dalton, candidate for County Assessor, has now been Assessor of Alameda county for sixteen years, and during that time has not run his office on partisan lines, and has made an honest, capable and impartial Assessor, where the humblest citizen has been courteously received, justly and fairly treated, and corporation influences have been ignored. He is again a candidate for this office, and the interests and influences that have always made a mud-slinging campaign each time he has been a candidate for office are again using the same tactics, irrespective of party, both because the conduct of his office has always been non-partisan in its character, and has been honestly and impartially conducted, should give endorsement to his candidacy and thus show an appreciation of his fair and just record, as well as to register an emphatic protest against the tactics of the mud-slingers.

"We urge all Democrats at the primary election on August 16, 1910, to write his name for Assessor on the Democratic ballot. This is all that is necessary in order to have a vote recorded for him.

"It is not necessary to stamp the cross after a name that is written in.

Don't forget your pencil.

"Yours in the interests of the Democratic party.

"C. F. FRASER, 52d Assembly District.

"T. C. STODDARD, 47th Assembly District.

"JOHN E. GEARY, 46th Assembly District.

"H. E. HARWOOD, 51st Assembly District.

"HENRY REINERS, 46th Assembly District.

"HENRY MAY, 46th Assembly District.

"Members of the Democratic County Committee."

TOKIO, Aug. 15.—Casualties from the great floods which inundated many districts in Japan last week and almost submerged two of the principal wards of Tokio on Friday and Saturday were given out today, after official investigation as 1112 dead and missing. Three thousand nine hundred and fifty-three houses were washed away in addition to the thousands which were under water during the flood, but resisted the strain.

Society People Caught

NARRAGANSETT PIER, R. I., Aug. 15.—The fear of more than a score of society men and women, caught in the raid in the Narragansett Club a week ago that they would have to appear next Monday as witnesses was dispelled today when Nathan B. Lewis advised Constable John G. Cross, the young leader of the raiders, not to summon the witnesses for that date.

The crusade against gambling was brought before the courts today for the second time when W. E. Arnold, who is charged with maintaining a gambling nuisance, reiterated his plea of not guilty and filed a demurrer to the complaint. Judge Lewis said arguments on the demurrer would be heard next Monday.

While crossing Fourteenth street at Twenty-third avenue this morning about 1 o'clock John Ferris of 616 Kennedy street was knocked down by an automobile. The party in the machine, which was running at a rapid rate, continued on its way without stopping to see whether the victim was dead or alive. Ferris fortunately escaped with only a few bruises and contusions of the body and was able to go to the Receiving Hospital without assistance.

CRIPPEN INQUEST EVIDENCE IS DEFERRED

Doctors Will Not Disclose Findings Until Accused Couple Have Returned

LONDON, Aug. 15.—Spectators who filed the fifth coroner's court at Islington today where the investigation of the Crippen murder mystery was continued, were disappointed.

They expected to hear of sensational disclosures in connection with the remains, supposed to be those of Belle Elmore, found in a cellar of the Crippen residence in Hill Top Crescent.

The physicians in charge of the case were responsible for the disappointment, having decided to withhold the scientific evidence regarding the nature and identity of the remains until Dr. Crippen and Miss Laverie return and have an opportunity to attend the court if they so desire.

In consequence of the death of Coroner Thomas, a week ago, it was necessary to make a fresh start in the inquest proceedings now presided over by the deputy coroner, Dr. Schroeder. The remains supposed to be those of Belle Elmore were again viewed by the jury and the hearing opened with a brief recital of the known facts by Dr. Schroeder, who intimated that the inquiry was likely to be a protracted one. Solicitor Newton, who was retained by friends of Dr. Crippen and whose services were accepted by the latter by cable, was in attendance. Solicitor J. H. Watts represented Miss Laverie.

Some of the more formal evidence given at the first hearing was repeated and a new witness, Miss Rhonda May, secretary of the Music Hall Ladies' Guild, of which Belle Elmore was treasurer, took the stand. She testified that at Christmas time Mrs. Crippen complained that her sleep was disturbed by a choking sensation.

She further stated that on February 3 Miss Laverie brought to her a passbook, check book and a letter in Dr. Crippen's handwriting, saying that Belle Elmore was going away for a few months and asking that the guild elect a new treasurer.

Superintendent Frost of Scotland Yard informed the court that he expected Dr. Crippen and Miss Laverie to arrive in England in about three weeks, after which the proceedings were adjourned until September 12.

Mitchell's Candidacy as State Equalizer.

No man is better known to the people of Alameda county than John Mitchell, who for twelve years represented the Fifth Supervisorial District as a member of the County Board of Supervisors. During that period he was also the presiding officer of the board.

In his long official career as a Supervisor Mr. Mitchell made an exemplary record. He proved himself to be a man of marked intelligence and progressive ideas and possessed of a sound business judgment which he invariably employed for the best interests of the county. Every important public work which Alameda county possesses today and which was developed during the twelve years he was a Supervisor serve as a monument to John Mitchell's intelligent administration of the responsible office he held. Throughout the county he induced the construction of good roads, permanent bridges and culverts and the erection of modern public buildings. Time has vindicated the wisdom of his actions. No county in the State possesses today as large a mileage of good roads and superb boulevards as Alameda county, for which its citizens are chiefly indebted to John Mitchell's enlightened administration. Indeed, the fruit of his work as Supervisor and president of the Board of Supervisors has been accepted as a model worthy of imitation by other counties.

Mr. Mitchell is a candidate for the Republican nomination as the representative of this district on the State Board of Equalization. Sitting as a member of the Alameda County Board of Equalization during his long term of service he acquired an invaluable knowledge of the values of property which qualify him in an eminent degree to sit on the state board. Coupled with this fact are exceptional business experience, clear judgment and absolute fairness of disposition which warrant the assumption that the voters of the Second Equalization District can make no mistake in nominating John Mitchell at the polls tomorrow.

Death of a Great Woman.

In the death of Miss Florence Nightingale at the age of 90 the civilized world has lost a woman whose career for over a half century has been one of the most remarkable of her times, and whose devotion to the cause of suffering humanity has made her name a household word and given her undying fame. She inherited her philanthropic instincts from her father who was distinguished in his day as one of the anti-slavery leaders co-operating with Wilberforce and the champion of the non-conformists in their fight for religious liberty in the British parliament.

Florence Nightingale's whole life was one of self-sacrifice. When a young woman she turned away from a home where she was enjoying all the comforts and luxuries of life which ample wealth could afford to study hospital management and nursing the sick in the French and German hospitals. When thus employed the Crimean war broke out in 1856, and the British government, whose attention had been attracted to her work in the hospitals on the continent, dispatched her at the head of a band of thirty-eight nurses at her own solicitation to take charge of the military hospitals at Scutari and Balaklava, where she established a system of hospital management, in open defiance of the British war office, which endeared her to the allied army and gave her immortal fame as the "Angel of the Crimea" and the "Mother of Army Nurses." She endured through the long war all the hardships and horrors of army hospital life. She brought order out of chaos in the management of the hospitals, and her devotion and tenderness in the relief of the sick and wounded won the undying gratitude of the nation which, after her return at the close of the war, expressed its appreciation of her services by subscribing a fund of £50,000 as a reward. With the same unselfishness she had manifested in volunteering to go to the scene of the war she promptly transferred the fund to found an institution for training nurses at St. Thomas Hospital, London. Practically, Miss Nightingale originated the modern movement of army nursing and hospital service which is today best known under the name of the Red Cross, of which Clara Barton was the nominal founder. The late King Edward, in recognition of the debt of the nation and civilized humanity to Miss Nightingale, conferred on her in 1902 the decoration of the Order of Merit, a distinction which she was the first woman to receive and which had been previously conferred on only a small handful of men.

To Whom Revelations Will Come.

After tomorrow—

Nat Ellery will know whether J. J. McCarthy is a political prophet or not.

Charlie Curry will know whether or not the liars outnumber the truthful men in California.

Alden Anderson can decide if the billboard is the ladder to political success.

I. H. Clay will know whether or not the taxpayers want an honest man for Assessor.

Hiram Johnson will be an authority on the efficacy of flaming and flapping devices to fool the public.

John Mitchell will know if the glad hand is strong enough to pull him up.

Henry P. Dalton will know if he can continue to pass bunk as real money in politics.

Colonel William Kent will know if the people regard fencing government land is a proof of desire to conserve the public domain in the public interests.

Frank C. Jordan will know if his luck is still with him.

Mayor Mott will have more time to ponder over bulldozing of city employees and intimidation of saloon keepers as agencies to secure good government and pure politics.

Johnny Mott will see whether he has brought home the bacon.

Jack London will know more about public opinion.

Judge Samuels will know whether Jack London's goosequill has destroyed an upright record in office.

Tom Stoddard will learn if effort to sell the Democratic party out for a deputyship has been successful.

The whole civilized world will sympathize with the Belgians in the complete destruction of the world's exposition buildings at Brussels, in which it is said $100,000,000 worth of property was consumed by the flames. All civilized nations represented at the fair will suffer a share of the loss in the total destruction of their respective exhibits. In all probability the fire insurance companies will be hard hit also, inasmuch as exhibitors had doubtless taken the precaution, which they usually do in such cases, to fully insure their property for the exposition season.

Police Judges Should Be Re-elected.

The people of Oakland have had enough of experience with Justice of the Peace and ex-officio Police Judge George S. Samuels to win their complete confidence in his ability and judicial fairness and warrant his re-election. In every walk of life Judge Samuels has shown the best qualities of good citizenship. In every position he has occupied as a public representative he has filled it with marked ability and rare intelligence, a sound knowledge of the law and an entire freedom from personal prejudice.

When the State Legislature created the office he is holding now Dr. George C. Pardee, then Governor of the State, recognized his fitness for the office of Justice of the Peace and ex-officio Police Judge of Oakland by promoting him, by appointment, from the position of public prosecutor which he held as a Deputy District Attorney to the new place on the bench. Subsequently, the people of Oakland at a popular election approved the appointment by choosing Judge Samuels as his own successor. Nothing has since taken place in his administration of justice which, in the remotest degree, warrants a change in the popular verdict of four years ago, for Judge Samuels has presided over his court with dignity, fairness, unwavering justice and a thorough knowledge of and acquiescence with the stern demands of the law, tempering his judgments, however, with that humane consideration the law comprehends is the duty of an honest judge to exercise in the interest of the offender and with due regard for society against whom he has offended. By all of the claims which can, therefore, be set up by a candidate for the judicial office Judge Samuels holds he is justly entitled to a renewed manifestation of the people's confidence in him through the primary nomination at the polls tomorrow as the Republican candidate for re-election.

The cause of justice never had a better exponent on the Police Court Bench of this city than Judge Mortimer Smith. While in no sense hard-hearted and disposed to make all due allowances for the frailties of human nature he nevertheless insists upon the impartial judicial enforcement of the law in its letter and spirit, and that mercy should not be so far indulged as to relax the law and amount to cruelty to the State. His long experience on the Police Court Bench has equipped him with a thorough knowledge of the forces of lawlessness in this community—a knowledge indispensable to the complete administration of justice in the judicial branch of our city government. A failure to re-elect him therefore as City Justice (commonly called Police Judge), would mean a distinct and irreparable loss to the city.

Every duly registered Republican voter should do his duty tomorrow by casting his ballot at the primaries.

The Union Iron Works of San Francisco, the only American shipyard competing for the contract to build a steel ladder dredge for the Panama canal, made a miserable showing against the Scotch firm of William Simons & Company of Renfrew. The Scotch shipyard's bid was $399,340. The Union Iron Works' bid was $874,146, or practically 120 per cent higher. This is, we believe, the first time that British shipbuilders have had an opportunity to compete against American shipyards for government work and the result puts an emphatic quietus to the claim which has been frequently made that American yards can turn out steel ships at as low, if not a lower, figure per ton measurement than the Britishers. President Taft has authorized the Canal Commission to award the contract to the Scotch firm, as under the circumstances he had no choice in the matter with such an enormous difference between the two bids.

Back to the Farm

A movement of considerable significance is being advanced by the National Farm Homes Association, which has its headquarters at St. Louis and at the head of which is Governor Hadley of Missouri. This association has for its purpose the purchase of great quantities of cheap land in different parts of the South and Southwest and colonizing thereon many families of those who now find it difficult to make a living in the cities.

According to the plans of the association, each separate colony will consist of thirty-two families and each family will be settled on a forty-acre tract. In the center of each colony will be one farm of 160 acres, which will remain in the hands of the association. This central farm will be the agricultural experiment station of the colony. It will be under the management of a trained agriculturist. At the central farm will also be retained the heavy machinery, which will be loaned to the individual farmers.

Governor Hadley outlines the plan substantially as follows: It is contemplated that each colonist, even although without any capital of his own to start with, shall become independent and own his land within ten years. The primary cost of each forty-acre farm is put at $1200; $400 for the land; the same amount for fencing and buildings; $200 for stock, and $1000 for implements and supplies. He estimates that, properly directed, the industrious and thrifty farmer will be able to clear $1000 a year, after his farm is established, and will enable him to clear off his indebtedness readily within the time limit. There is abundance of land to be had at the price of $10.—Post-Intelligencer.

Twenty Years Ago in Oakland

William A. Gordon a prisoner in the county jail has been pardoned by the President. He is the superintendent of a paper mill in Mexico. A short time ago, he was arrested in San Francisco for using concealed stamps. The chief executive of the nation and has been granted his release.

Tomorrow, the supervisors, accompanied by J. E. McElhath, will make a tour of the district through which it is proposed to run the new electric street car line between this city and Berkeley.

Captain of Police Wilson has arrested T. O. Ward who, for some time past, has been stealing from rooms in the eastern part of the city. Ward accomplished his jobs by renting rooms in various hotels and remitting in them until he learned of the time of the coming and going of the other occupants of the place. He would take advantage of this information and steal from the apartments during the absence of the tenants. When he was arrested in the Smith House, this morning, he had on his person a number of articles which had been appropriated in this manner.

Night schools for the season have reopened. There is to be a special course in industrial or mechanical drawing, which is to be given by Professor Gleason. It is expected that there will be a larger attendance of scholars than has ever attended any of these sessions.

Bids have been asked for the construction of the proposed hotel at the new stockyards near Pinole.

The city council has cited Jackson and Dickinson to appear before that body to show why their liquor license should not be revoked. It has been charged that the firm in question has, beside selling liquor at 417 Seventh street, also been running a gambling joint at the same place for colored men.

City Attorney Johnson has filed an opinion with the Board of Public Works to the effect that that body has no legal right to sit as a board of commissioners in the matter of the opening of streets.

Fred Delger is having a new section of sidewalk laid in front of the property at the corner of Fourteenth street and Broadway.

Now that the proposition of submitting to the people the issuance of bonds for public improvement is taking definite shape, the discussion which has been going on with reference to the dredging and the improvement of Lake Merritt for the last twenty years or more, is becoming more and more prominent. The reclamation of the West Oakland marsh is almost if not quite as prominent a topic of public comment.

Many prominent citizens have been interviewed on the subject of improvements of the kind referred to in the foregoing paragraph, and among the views expressed, are the following by Arthur D. Thompson: "Health is the first consideration. The sewers should be attended to. That West Oakland marsh has always been an eyesore to me. It should be made a beautiful place and an attraction to visitors coming into the city instead of a deformity as it is at the present time. The land can be purchased cheaper at the present time than it can ever be again. I would like to see bonds for the construction of a High School also included in the proposition."

A new time-card has gone into effect on the western division of the Southern Pacific and the San Jose branch by which two trains have been withdrawn and the time of running others has been greatly changed. Trains 27 and 28, the Niles passenger that leaves the pier at 10:36 a. m. and returning, left Niles at 2:36 p. m., has been taken off.

Oakland machinists have formed a union. During the past month, the members of Oakland Union of Painters and Decorators have been actively engaged in the pursuit of their business, with a demand for more men than the union can furnish.

Oakland Typographical Union has elected the following officers: President, W. B. Soule; vice-president, J. E. Holmer; secretary, John P. Terrell; treasurer, J. van Dusk; delegate to Alameda County Federation of Trades, R. E. Sullivan, John Hunt and W. B. Soule.

Stage Morals

As to the influence of the personal character of actors and actresses upon the morals of the time, there were some biological persons who resorted any reference to this phase of the subject as an impertinence. If thought there was no one in the community, excepting perhaps the unmarried curate, whose morals ought to be so much a matter of public concern as the actor. There was no woman in any other profession whose morality was of so much importance as that of the actress. And for this reason: To multitudes of people of both sexes their favorite actor or actress was the nearest approach they had to a patron saint. The human heart must have something to worship, and if salutes failed it was better to idealize the saint or the woman whose personations of the heroic and heroic of our drama had inspired them with a loftier conception of life and its possibilities than had ever before dazzled their imagination.

But the more frankly they acknowledged that this had always been so and must always be so, the more obvious was the immense influence which any deviation from the path of virtue must of necessity exercise upon the hundreds and thousands of their admirers. The presence of seven curates in the divorce courts would be less disastrous a blow than the ruin of one such glorified ideal. We had much reason to be proud of the high standard maintained on the English stage. Even in the lower regions of musical comedy girls had discovered that it was a mistake to compromise themselves while there was even an off chance of marrying a peer.—W. T. Stead in a London Address.

Go Slowly; Eat Slowly

Just as soon as man has crossed that point in life when the pace is the fastest, whether we put it at twenty-five years with Plato, at forty with Montaigne, or, to be more kind, with the sagest of himself at the grand climacteric (sixty-three), the tubing begins to show signs of wear and tear, and the blood pressure gradually rises.

Now there is nothing more difficult than permanently to reduce high blood pressure. Drugs have really very little influence. The nitrates are helpful in temporarily lowering it; but take a man with a persistent pressure of 210 to 240 mm. of Hg. and you may get the record to 210 or 220, but to get it back to 150 or 160 and keep it there is not often within our power.

Much more important results may follow change in a man's habits of life. I usually give two prescriptions—"Go slowly," "Eat slowly." "Eat less"—on which I find a great many patients put the same value as did Naaman on the prescription of Elisha. A man who has kept a full head of steam in the boilers must learn to lower the pressure and be content with the quiet 10 knots an hour speed. It is very difficult to stoke the engines in due proportion to the work expected.

No wonder there is a high pressure and the machine goes to pieces when the furnaces are stoked for the Lusitania and the engines are asked to do the work of an ocean voyage.

Much depends on the patient himself—on the life he has led—the life he is willing to lead. The ordinary high-pressure business or professional man may find relief, or even cure, in the simple process of slowing the engines, reducing the speed from the 25 knots an hour of a "Lusitania" to the 10 knots of a "Black Blithia tramp." The difficulty is to induce a man of this type to lessen "the race, and rack and strain." As William Pepper used to say: "Give me the life of a philosopher."

End of Puffs

Paris has decreed that the elaborate collars no longer fashionable, Paris is wise. Those rats and other mysterious paddings which lately have worn in its hair these last few years must have been productive of many a headache during the hot weather. There is a limit beyond which Tyranny itself cannot go.

If our memory serves us well the fashion began with the Psyche knot, so called perhaps because even Cupid fell in love with the beautiful nymph of that name. The pompadour followed, but here we discreetly beg leave to refrain from entering into any historical allusions. The front pompadour gave place to the back pompadour. Then came the reign of the puffs, artless little curls which deceived nobody. It was more than a reign—it was a craze, and the puff counters of the 5-and-10-cent stores resembled fields of Amazon battle. The rat came next, and its sway was undisputed. But now Paris decrees otherwise, and rats and puffs will soon be things of the past. So semper! The police dispatches go so far as to tell us that M. Marcel was arrested the other day—the very same M. Marcel who invented and named the wave.

But Beauty need not be alarmed nor overwakened concern itself, for a woman's morning glory needs no adventitious aids.—New York Sun.

"Brown has wired me to send him up some fishing tackle."

"A nuisance, isn't it?"

"No, it isn't that; but I can't remember whether he favors Scotch or Rye."

The Whiver.

The Father of Socialism

"The greatest mind of the second half of our century" is the phrase that Friedrich Engels used when he wrote from London to Wilhelm Liebknecht in 1888 describing the death of their mutual friend and their leader, Karl Marx.

To many at that time this characterization doubtless appeared extravagant and overdrawn. It must have seemed almost absurd to give such a high ranking to a man who spent his life preaching socialism and apocalypticism among the working class. Yet history has a strange way of reversing popular verdicts. With every year that has passed since the death of Marx his reputation has grown. Professor Thorstein Veblen, one of our ablest American sociologists, has said: "The socialism that inspires hopes and fears today is of the school of Marx. No one is seriously apprehensive of any other so-called socialistic movement, and no one is seriously concerned to criticize or refute the doctrines set forth by any other school of 'Socialists." John Spargo, the author of the first biography of Marx that has yet appeared in any language, declares: "Socialism and 'Marxism' have become interchangeable as practically synonymous terms."

"In the great European countries where socialism is a power politically the movement is almost wholly dominated and inspired by the thought and deed of Marx. In the United States, where there is a growing socialist movement which is generally recognized as being much bigger and stronger than its political manifestation, socialism and Marxism are synonymous. In China and Japan the words of Marx are eagerly read and studied by those who challenge the existing order and dream of change. In Australia Marxian shibboleths are inscribed upon the red banners of a disoriented proletarian. In Africa, there are Karl Marx clubs, from which emanates the spirit of revolution.—Current Literature.

WOMAN MURDERED AND BODY FOUND BURIED IN YARD

Madame Schultz - Castine, at One Time German Court
Favorite, Victim.

HUNT DISTANT RELATIVE
AS POSSIBLE ASSASSIN

$6000 Is Missing and Police
Are Making a Rigid Investigation.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 15.—The body of Madame Fred Schultz-Castine, formerly a prominent figure at the "Tupper" court of Germany and a descendant of a long line of titled Germans, was unearthed yesterday from a shallow grave almost at the doorstep of her little ranch home four miles from Lancaster. She had been murdered.

Her son, Lieutenant Emil Schultz-Castine, a protégé of the crown prince of Germany and formerly in the German army, is in a precarious condition at the Lancaster Hotel from the shock of the discovery, and from blood poisoning contracted through handling his mother's remains.

The police of three continents are on the watch for Otto Schultz, a distant relative of Mme. Schultz-Castine, who is believed by Sheriff Hammett to have committed the murder in order to obtain $6000 in gold which Mrs. Castine was taking back to her ranch from the town.

THINK WOMAN MURDERED.

The investigation of officers from the sheriff's office in Los Angeles, who arrived here yesterday, tend to show that the woman was murdered as she drove into her yard and that she was thrown into the shallow hole which was the grave.

The chase after Schultz may prove a parallel to the famous Crippen affair, for government officers were called in yesterday, as well as every channel by which the suspects might attempt to make an escape.

As soon as word was flashed to Sheriff Hammett of the tragedy, the deputy was put to work. Every coast port from Canada to the southern point of Mexico was notified, including Galveston, through which the woman made his entry into the United States three months ago. Cable messages have been dispatched to the Orient, as well as to the points in Europe, and particularly through Germany.

Experts found show that the murdered woman is the descendant of a long ancestry of titles. Her family is the Von Schultz, famous throughout Germany. Her husband was Dr. Emil Schultz, a Frenchman known throughout Europe in musical circles. He was the owner of one of the most noted theaters in Berlin.

Returning home from a visit to a near-by ranch yesterday, Lieutenant Schultz-Castine sought his mother in vain. The kitchen door was open and he stepped inside. Not finding his mother in the house, he walked a mile away to the nearest residence and made inquiries. He could not find any trace of her and she started in another direction.

DOG LEADS THEM TO GRAVE.

It was then that neighbors went to the Schultz-Castine home to look about. When they entered the yard, the actions of a pet dog led them to the shallow grave where the woman was buried. Madame Schultz-Castine was fully dressed, even to the long black driving gloves she had worn when last seen in Lancaster Friday afternoon.

A wound in the back of the head showed how she had been struck down. Blood-stained exfoliated wood was used to commit the act.

The body of the woman was removed to Lancaster, and Sheriff Hammett, with Deputy Martin Aguirre and Deputy Billy Fryer, hurried to the scene of the crime. The body was found about two miles from the ranch where the woman was living. He had been connected with the army there and left his parents, brothers and sisters to come west and arrange a home for him.

Madame Schultz-Castine, a distant relative, had his passage to this country. He came directly to the ranch in May from Calcutta, where he had been out at the place in doing small services.

EXPECTED $30,000.

On Friday Madame Schultz-Castine visited Lancaster. She expected $30,000 by mail from the settlement in Berlin of an estate of her son. He recently became of age and the money was due through the representative of the German Empire in Los Angeles.

She visited a housekeeper at the hotel for the shooting of her horse. In doing so she produced a roll of bills amounting to $100. She is said to have received $6,000 of the amount she expected.

It is believed Schultz expected to find the great amount of money upon her, for it had been talked of freely in his presence. He had been carefully searched by the murderer, as was the house.

Friday evening Schultz arrived at Lancaster station just too late to get the 6 o'clock train for Los Angeles. He ate his lunch there and secured a room. He had his belongings packed in a wicker basket and announced in broken English that he intended returning to Germany. He even changed his clothing at the station and took train No. 8 out of Lancaster at 2:30 the following morning.

Madame Schultz-Castine came to the United States some two years ago and spent a year in travel with her son, spending about $11,000. She then came to Los Angeles at the advice of a physician and subsequently purchased the ranch at Lancaster.

After investigating the circumstances surrounding the crime, the coroner's jury last night returned a verdict that Madame Freda Schultz-Castine came to her death by being struck on the head by some blunt instrument supposed to have been used by Otto Schultz.

CLAIRVOYANTS' PET TRICKS EXPOSED AT BELL THEATER

THE GREAT ALBINI, who is exposing the tricks of the famous sleight-of-hand performers and hypnotists at the Bell this week.

Maybe you do and maybe you don't know how it is when you slide through the Oriental hangings into the dusty agency of the Southwest to the celebrated Madame Mierwa. Egyptian clairvoyant and seeress, and dicker with the mystic lady for a dollar's worth of "past, present, and future," and little advice on making stocks and the like.

Or maybe you have seen all around-a-very like, holding hands in the dark, while a fat medium threw a tangle and got "Little Bright Eyes" or some other "Sleight of Hand" on the stage, for a talk with the hereafter, at one dollar per talk. Maybe you have seen the theatrical Dr. McVoy Tyndall, telepathist, seer, clairvoyant, and three or four other things, rushing money blindfold about the city streets looking for a jelly doughnut that some one has hidden behind a hitching post.

ARE IN PREP SCHOOL.

Or maybe, again, you have seen Anna Eva Fay—but what's the use? Just because you think you have been Mr. Mutt enough to break into the unknown for a dollar or so is no reason why it should be picked up and thrown at you, but if you have any lingering desire to discover just how good a thing the "mediums" and the "seers" picked when they found you, how for an hour and talk with this chap who is headed across the Bell Theater billboards as "The Great Albini." Compared with Albini, Dr. Tyndall is a modest amateur and Anna Eva is still in the prep school class. When Albini returns to New York, he plans to open a finishing school for the Tyndalls and the Fays and the rest of their type. In the meantime, he will show his playful nature. Albini is going about the country showing them up, reproducing their tricks and devices, illustrating the ease with which real money may be extracted from those who

DEAD BODY FOUND BY YOUNG WOMAN MOB ATTEMPTS TO LYNCH NEGRO

Unidentified German Left Note Saying Life Had Been Spoiled for Him.

SAN JOSE, Cal., Aug. 15.—The body of an unidentified German suicide was found in the bed of the Peninsula Creek yesterday afternoon by Miss A. M. DeDo, a resident on the Alum Rock road who had gone into the creek bed to shoot birds. The man had been dead a month. In his pocket was found a note on the back of a card saying that life had been spoiled for him and that he intended to kill himself. The corner in a loss as to his identity, there being nothing other than the unsigned card by which identification could be made.

Lancaster. He had ample time to take another train from this city and make his departure south or eastward before word of the murder reached the sheriff's office yesterday.

ATTEMPT TO ESCAPE.

It is believed, however, that the man was attempting to lose himself in this city rather than to chance escape across the country on a train. No word has come in answer to the scores of telegrams sent everywhere through the West that any one resembling the suspected man has been located.

There is doubt about whether the murderer secured more than the $100 which Mrs. Castine was known to have on her person. The man undoubtedly believed that he might have been in possession of several thousand dollars which she was expecting to receive from San Francisco.

Mrs. Martha Chatt, the Los Angeles woman who was reported missing after she had started last week on a trip to Lancaster, has been located safe on a ranch near that town.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 15.—Detectives have been detailed by the local police department to watch all outgoing and incoming vessels for Otto Schultz, wanted in connection with the murder of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Frieda Castine. A close watch will be kept on the water front, as the local police have been informed by Los Angeles authorities that Schultz is expected to arrive on board a coast schooner. They also expect that the suspect may attempt to embark here for an Oriental port.

'THIRTY' IS CALL FOR EVENING MAIL

High Cost of Production and Illness of Owner Makes Step Necessary.

There will be no more publications of the Evening Mail, a penny newspaper in Oakland. On Saturday night it was officially announced that beginning today it would be absorbed by the Daily News as the result of the high cost of production and the illness of its owner.

The official statement of its suspension reads: "The Daily News, San Francisco, has taken over the circulation and good will of the Evening Mail, and on Monday, August 19, the paper will be delivered to all Mail readers. The Daily News has been one of the most fearless and independent papers around the bay, and its entry into the Oakland field will be welcomed by those who believe in the rights of the masses and those good citizens who have fought so valiantly for honest government in Oakland."

The Daily News will have in Oakland a bureau at 154 Grove street, and will furnish the latest Oakland news and the world's news fourteen hours a day in the morning papers. The price will be 35 cents a month.

There are several reasons for this. The high cost of production on the Mail's separate plant and the illness of the publisher, who has been unable to give his attention to it. He is one of the owners of the Daily News, which paper, on entering the Oakland field, will be welcomed by the people's conscience and support.

The Mail wishes to sincerely thank its thousands of friends and readers in Oakland and to bespeak a continuance of their patronage for its successor, the Daily News.

GREAT INCREASE SHOWN BY ESTATE

Home Has Grown to Large Amount.

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—It was eight years ago when John Macmillan Burke, a retired New York business man, announced that he had made a will leaving the major part of his estate for the founding of a home for old people in New York City. He estimated that the fund then invested in stocks, bonds and real estate, would amount to nearly $400,000.

When he died a year ago, the real estate and securities had increased in value and the fund amounted to the sum of $500,000. The fund was divided into two parts, one of which would be used for the building of the home, and the other for the maintenance of the same.

Oysters Live in Trees; Fish Eat Out of Hand. This Is in Porto Rico!

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—Oysters grow on trees in Porto Rico, and that never had the honor of mention on the menu of a restaurant, were yesterday reported in the waters of Porto Rico; fish of hitherto unknown varieties will eat out of the hand in Porto Rico; and every kind of sea creature is expected to be caught in Porto Rico.

All the foregoing is described in a report to the bureau of insular affairs from San Juan.

For oysters, Captain John H. Kerr of Baltimore, who is in Porto Rico looking over the fishing field, is authority for the statement that they grow in the trees and are reported to the bureau of insular affairs.

"Oysters of good flavor are quite plentiful on the south side of the island; they are usually attached to the roots and lower branches of the mangrove trees at the shore."

In spite of all these conditions, the report shows that Porto Rico imported 1,000 tons of oysters from New York last year and exported none.

DOUBLE SUICIDE PACT FOLLOWS PSYCHIC STUDY

Former Actress and Hypnotic Husband, Married Last June, Turn on Gas After
Stopping All Cravings in Flat

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 15.—Hypnotic influence and the reading of psychic messages is believed to have been the direct impulse which caused the carrying out of a double suicide pact some time last Thursday by Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Roche, whose bodies were found yesterday morning in the rear bedroom of their flat at 715 Pine street. Death resulted from asphyxiation.

Stopping every craving and appetite through which fresh air might possibly enter the apartment was broken up by the couple, who were married in San Rafael June 27 of this year, deliberately lay down on the bed, after partaking of champagne, and inhaled the fumes which ended their existence. So tightly was every crack stuffed with absorbent cotton and wet towels that it was not until after three days of the gas going full blast that the odor of escaping gas attracted the attention of Warren Jones, who with his family occupies the lower flat in the building.

Jones notified the police and when the doors of the apartment were broken open by detectives and officers from the coroner's department the two bodies were found, side by side on the bed. From the appearance of the corpses it was evident that the man had met a peaceful death but that the woman had suffered from the choking fumes, her body showing signs of death convulsions.

MARRIED SEVERAL TIMES.
Mrs. Katherine Roche, actress and writer, was formerly the wife of Harry L. Atkinson, a well-known lawyer and athlete. Her maiden name was Fitzgerald and she came to California from Michigan living for a short time in Berkeley, the former home of Warren Jones, who discovered the suicide. It was at the home of Jones that she first met Atkinson. She had also been married once before. Atkinson and the woman were still good friends after their divorce and she often spoke to him of being unhappy with her last husband.

Mrs. Roche, as well as her husband, are both known to have attempted self-destruction before. While the wife of Atkinson she was rescued by him from the gas in their apartment three years ago when she turned on the gas and became unconscious. Roche, according to the statements of friends who knew him, has nursed the idea of suicide for some time. Her husband, an intimate friend, says that some time ago Roche showed him a note which was to have been left behind in event of death.

Roche's suicide had been carefully planned is evidenced from the numerous notes which the couple prepared for friends and the will of Mrs. Roche, leaving all to her former husband. "Whatever I die possessed of, either here or in Michigan, I leave to H. L. Atkinson," was the closing of the will.

WAS A SPECIAL WRITER.
Mrs. Roche did some special writing for San Francisco papers following a short career on the stage. Her husband was a solicitor for a coffee company. It is said that his hypnotic power over other women was phenomenal and that without any effort he made $100 per week, which he spent lavishly. Friends and relatives assign the cause to the constant reading of psychic books by the couple.

Harry L. Atkinson was deeply shocked at hearing of his double suicide. "I am of no opinion," he said, "unless it was the extremely volatile temperaments of both of them. They were constantly either in highly excited spirits or in the depths of despondency."

He is imagining that the death compact was made and carried out.

BAY CITIES COMPANY APPEALS TO PIEDMONT

Bomb Thrown in Meeting by Charges That Concern Is Obtaining Contracts in a Scheme of 'High Finance'

Last Friday night the promoter of the Bay Cities Water Company appeared before a joint meeting of the Board of Supervisors and the Board of Public Works at City Hall, Col. Ogden, for the Bay Cities Company, appeared and attacked Col. Irish with exceeding personalities and denunciations and then presented the Bay Cities scheme, based upon ten-year contracts to be signed by consumers.

Mr. Hugh Craig, chairman of the meeting, warmly supported the scheme of the Bay Cities and proposed that Piedmont should take an option of purchase of that company's water plant. Then began a fire of questions and answers. Mr. Uhl asked about the capital of the Bay Cities company and Col. Ogden gave assurances of its sufficiency.

Mr. Uhl then stated that when he was preparing to equip his building in San Francisco with steam pipes a very able promoter called on him and presented the scheme of a new company, which offered to put in a pipe equipment and to supply water at a very low price. He would sign a contract.

OFFER WAS ALLURING.
The offer was very alluring and he signed the contract. But time went by and no pipe was put in and at last began an investigation and found that the cheap pipe company had taken his money and offered no water. He then turned to the Bay Cities company and Col. Ogden gave assurances of its sufficiency.

Mr. Uhl then stated that when he was preparing to equip his building in San Francisco with steam pipes a very able promoter called on him and presented the scheme of a new company, which offered to put in a pipe equipment and to supply water at a very low price. He would sign a contract.

QUEEN OF NURSES DIES IN LONDON

Florence Nightingale Succumbs to Attack of Heart Failure.
LONDON, Aug. 15.—Florence Nightingale, the famous nurse of the Crimean war, known in England as the "Queen of Nurses," and the only woman who ever received the Order of Merit, died Saturday afternoon at her London home.

Although she had been an invalid for a long time, rarely leaving her room, she was somewhat unexpected. A week ago she was quite well, but then improved and on Friday was cheerful. During that night alarming symptoms developed, and she gradually sank until she died Saturday afternoon, when an attack of heart failure brought the end.

Her funeral will be as quiet as possible, in accordance with her wishes. Next Monday morning, owing to her feebleness and advanced age, Miss Nightingale had received but few visitors. On May 13 last she celebrated her ninetieth birthday.

PRIVATE OFFICER VICTIM OF HOLDUP

Wounded Detective Believes
Former Convicts Pounded
Him for Revenge.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 15.—Attached to the corner of the corner of a building on his beat, a private officer of the police department who lives at 535 Randolph street, was beaten and left in a dazed condition on the pavement at an early hour this morning. He believes that revenge prompted the assault.

Bierne was on duty with a guard at San Quentin penitentiary, and during his employment there aroused the enmity of some of the prisoners under the care of his strict observance of the rules and discipline he maintained among the men. He believes he recognized the pair who pummeled him this morning as ex-convicts.

Bierne had been walking along Howard street trying doors and inspecting buildings and passageways, when, as he left the structure at Second and Howard streets, he was suddenly struck from behind by one of two men who darted around the corner.

They punched him in the face and prevented him from drawing either club or revolver. In the fight his nose was broken and he sustained several wounds on the scalp, which were bruised and abrasions. He was taken to the Harbor Emergency Hospital and treated by Dr. O'Connor, while the police were notified of the attack.

SAILOR HELD UP.
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 15.—While making his way to the St. Clement Hotel on Fourth street at 5 a. m., John Schmidt, a sailor, was held up at East and Mission streets by two masked footpads, who robbed him of $7.50 and beat him with blackjacks. Schmidt believes the men had been following him for quite a while and selected an opportune moment when no one was in the vicinity for assaulting him.

After striking him several times in the face the pair ran off, warning him that they would kill him if he attempted to pursue. He made his way to the Harbor Emergency Hospital, where several bruises on his cheek and forehead were dressed.

Got Little Iron Cage For $1,000,000 Baby To Prevent Kidnaping

BAR HARBOR, Me., Aug. 15.—A steel cage on wheels, constructed by a skilled craftsman and safeguarded by locks of the most complicated design for the morning dyes of Vernon McLean, America's $100,000,000 baby, is the latest and most elaborate novelty that the fortune hunter has taken to protect this little Croesus against kidnaping.

This steel cage perambulator is the result of a recent attempt of burglars to break into the home of Beale McLean, a son of Bar Harbor.

The McLean baby is now as carefully guarded from all save his nurse as if he were a little prisoner held as hostage. Whenever he goes out of doors he goes in his carriage cage, padlocked, and a Pinkerton detective, armed with the latest patented firearms, follows the baby and his nurse to and across the lawn wherever the ride leads.

Multi-Millionaires to Sweep the Streets; To Be Clean-Up Day

CHICAGO, Aug. 15.—Tomorrow is set aside by city officials as the day for a general "clean-up."

"In view of the extended drought which Chicago has experienced during the last few weeks," said Mayor Buie, "I believe that this year's cleaning day should be participated in by every able-bodied person in the city. In some sections of the city the streets are so filthy that they should be cleaned up as they should be, but if the citizens jump in and help the street department it will be a great aid."

"Every prominent business man in the city is asked to have his matter of a 'cleaning day,'" said E. J. Mulvaney, commissioner of public works, "and I expect a number of millionaires will be out on the streets sweeping up their own dirt as well as the dirt of the city."

ANNOUNCEMENTS SAGE FOR DARKENING THE HAIR.

There is nothing new about the idea of using sage for restoring the color of the hair. Our great-grandmothers kept their locks soft, dark and glossy by using a sage tea. Willows, whose hair fell out or took on a dull, faded or streaked appearance, they made a brew of sage leaves and applied it to their hair with wonderfully beneficial effect. Nowadays we don't have to resort to the old-time, tiresome method of gathering the herbs and making the brew. This is done by skillful chemists better than we could do it ourselves, and all we have to do is to call for the ready-made product. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, containing sage in the proper strength, with the addition of Sulphur, another old-time scalp remedy. This preparation is sold by all first-class druggists for 50c. and $1.00 a bottle, or is sent direct by the Wyeth Chemical Company, 74 Cortlandt St., New York City, upon receipt of price.

For sale and recommended by The Owl Drug Co., 13th and Broadway, 16th and Washington, 16th and San Pablo.

SMUGGLERS GIVE FIGHT TO TROOPS

Mysterious Signals Give Away
the Hiding Place of Robber Band.

LISBON, Aug. 12.—A battle between soldiers and a band of smugglers is reported from Pinedo.

Some time ago the authorities were informed that large quantities of silk, tobacco and alcohol were being smuggled into the district. They were unable to trace the smugglers until one night, when some coast guards saw mysterious signals exchanged between a sailing ship off the coast and some men who were stationed on a bluff above the beach.

The coast guards summoned a number of soldiers, who were posted behind rocks. After waiting several hours they saw two boats rowed ashore from the ship and many bales and barrels were thrown on the beach.

After the boats had returned to the ship, the smugglers appeared and carried the goods away. They were attacked and overpowered, whereupon one of the smugglers offered to show the troops where his comrades made their headquarters if he was guaranteed a free pardon.

On receiving this assurance he guided the troops to a cave in the mountains, where eighteen smugglers were hidden. A desperate battle took place, in which knives, revolvers and swords were used. Two smugglers were killed and seven wounded before the soldiers gained the mastery.

HIGH SCHOOL GIRL CHOSEN ELMHURST CARNIVAL QUEEN

MAYBELL BATTEATI, who was chosen queen of the Elmhurst Carnival yesterday.

ELMHURST, Aug. 15.—Maybell Batteati was pronounced queen of the Elmhurst carnival last night when the contest in which a dozen or more popular young women of this place were entered was closed, and the votes counted.

The total number of votes cast for the successful contestant was 15,630 votes which is a load of 1200 over her nearest competitor, Miss Eva Malik.

The friends of Miss Batteati gained the queenship for their favorite by carrying a "roar" which they successfully carried out to an end. The name of Miss Batteati was at all times in the contest held in the background, with the idea of lulling those who were last night, with the closing hours of the contest, a great load of votes which had been obtained but held up until the last moment were dumped in on the voting place.

The other contestants were unable to vote in time to meet the deadline in the direction of Miss Batteati. Miss Eva Malik, second in the contest, polled a vote of 3360, and Miss Edith Adams, who held third place had a vote of 2265.

Queen Maybell Batteati is the 15-year-old daughter of Nicholas Batteati, a merchant of Elmhurst, living on Bay avenue. She is a popular girl, and a well-known student at the Fremont High School. She is an active member of St. Louis Church and a member of a number of its clubs and organizations. Her official appearance in the carnival will be on the opening day, Thursday of this week when she will be publicly crowned.

All of the various courts of the Forsters of America have been invited by the local court, under whose auspices the carnival is being given, to take part in the parade. All other fraternal organizations of the bay cities have been invited, besides the Grand Army men of Elmhurst. An interesting feature of the evening will be the participation of all the school children of Elmhurst in the parade. The music for the occasion will be furnished by the San Leandro Foresters' Band, and a comic aggregation of the Carnival Amusement Co.

The queen will be crowned in a stand which is under construction now on Fourth street, and it is planned by the promoters of the carnival to have Mayor Mott present on this occasion to make the presentation of the keys to Queen Batteati. If it is impossible to obtain the Mayor on this night, District Attorney Douglas Grant, Chief of Police of California, will fill this part.

The decorations of the street began to go up, and the merchants have responded quickly to the requests that they assist by decorating their stores.

in House.

ALAMEDA, Aug. 15.—A peculiar circumstance saved the occupants of a house at 1224 Park avenue from total death by burning this morning at 1 o'clock when fire broke out in the basement of the dwelling.

Spontaneous combustion caused a blaze among oil paint tags that had been left by a painter in the basement of the house and burning the box which held them the flames crept up to the basement and burning the insulation off the nearby electric wires short circuited them and caused the ringing of the front doorbell in the house. Awakened by the sound of the bell, John Buben, who owns and occupies the house, saw the dense smoke creeping from the basement and turned in a panic to which the fire department responded.

That the sleeping occupants had a narrow escape from death is the opinion of Chief Knuth of the fire department. The basement of the house was badly damaged.

Money Is Lost on the Aviation Meet

PARIS, Aug. 15.—The failure of most of the aviation meetings this summer has proved a great disappointment to promoters. After this tremendous loss of the great meeting at Rheims last year, hundreds of meetings were organized in every country in Europe and even in Egypt. Beginning with the winter meets along the Riviera, these meetings have continued week after week in almost every large city in France. In almost every case the results for the promoters have been disastrous.

Even Rheims, with the prestige of last year and a long series of broken records this summer, was a financial failure, the loss totaling $100,000. Those identified with aviation place the blame upon the spirit of commercialism with which acrobatics is being exploited.

TO INVESTIGATE VAN LIEW TRIAL

New Trustee of Chico Normal
Denies He Has Taken Stand Against President.

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 15.—District Attorney and Assemblyman Frank M. Rutherford of Nevada county, who was appointed by Governor Gletter last week as the successor of the late E. A. Warren on the board of trustees of the Chico Normal school, says that he wants to know the facts in the charges against President C. C. Van Liew of the school, who was recently exonerated on a charge of trying to place his arm about the waist of a Miss Ada Clark, a student.

He stated yesterday in Nevada City that he will look over the record of the hearing before taking a definite stand on the matter. Should the record hear Van Liew out, he said, he would be in favor of the retention of the president; but should he come to the conclusion that a majority of the board members did not vote right he would be in favor of Van Liew's removal. The report comes from Chico that several years ago a letter relative of the new trustee was expelled from the school by Van Liew for misconduct, and subsequently caused criticisms to be printed in the newspapers about the matter.

Government to Take Up Cholera Campaign

Suspected Emigrants Are to Be Detained by Officials of the United States.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—Early and energetic steps have been taken by the government to keep out Asiatic cholera, now epidemic in Russia. Consular officers at Hamburg, Bremen, Antwerp, Rotterdam and other continental and British ports have been instructed to detain suspected emigrants and to disinfect baggage before it is shipped to the United States.

The quarantine regulations now being enforced provide that steerage passengers and crew shall be held in barracks located where there is no danger of infection. Chin passengers coming from cholera-infected districts, embarking at ocean or river ports must produce satisfactory evidence as to their place of abode during the five days preceding embarkation.

More Fire Protection Is Needed for Forests

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—Protection from forest fire is the first prerequisite necessary for the successful practice of forestry, says Harry S. Graves, United States forester, in a bulletin just issued by the bureau of which he is chief.

"As long as there is any considerable risk from fire," he says, "forest owners have little incentive to make provision for natural protection, to plant trees, to make improvement in cuttings or do other work looking to continued forest production."

After speaking of what has been done in this direction, he asserts that the fact remains, however, that the forests of the country, particularly those privately owned, are inadequately protected from fire. It is probable that in July 75 per cent of the private forests there is no attempt whatever at a systematic protection.

EXPOSURE KILLING BANK PRESIDENT

Discovery of Shortage Deals
Death Blow to Head of Big Financial Institution.

FIDDLERFORD, Maine, Aug. 15.—The closing of the York County Savings Bank by State Banking Commissioner Skinner because of a "serious discrepancy" in the deposit accounts kept by Richard H. Ingorsoll, treasurer of the bank since 1880, reveals a remarkable story of misappropriation of funds, not for personal profit, it is said, but to preserve the good name of the institution which he had served for more than half a century.

Ingorsoll, who was found unconscious at his home on the day of the bank's annihilation, has denied in a letter left in his desk that any part of the shortage is due to use of the bank's funds by himself. He is now dying, but before he became ill and when he was certain that the tangled condition of the bank's accounts would shortly become known, he wrote a letter and left it on his desk.

In this letter he declared that owing to his fear lest the bank had made unfortunate western investments should his standing be impaired, he had made false entries in the bank's books. This was a complete denial of the fact that he had never taken a vacation nor has he allowed anyone else to work upon the books. He alone knew of the falsification, it was disclosed by the bank examiner.

The day that the discovery was made Mr. Ingorsoll collapsed and became unconscious. He is now dying.

The impression is that the institution will be found solvent and will resume business.

Chinese Abolish Post of Diplomatic Adviser

PEKING, Aug. 15.—The Chinese government has decided to employ no diplomatic adviser for the future, a decision that has come as a surprise, and to some extent a disappointment to the foreign communities of the Far East.

The Wai Wu Pu, the foreign governing board, will depend in the future on the views and opinions that are held regarding foreign affairs by those of its own people who have had long experience in the diplomatic and consular services abroad. The post now to be abolished has paid a salary of $25,000 a year.

Japanese Minister Guest at Banquet

A number of prominent Japanese residents of this city were among the guests. This afternoon the distinguished visitor held a reception at the residence of Matsuo Kuroki, Japanese consul general. He will sail for Japan tomorrow on the Tanyo Maru.

Spirited Nebraska
Campaign Nears End

OMAHA, Neb., Aug. 15.—The statewide primary of the political parties in Nebraska will be held tomorrow. The campaign for nominations on the Republican and Democratic tickets has been spirited and the candidates numerous.

The campaign issue is involved in the proposition to substitute county option for the local option law, and it has split both parties and the situation has been further complicated by "insurgency" in the Republican and the personality of William J. Bryan in the Democratic party.

State and county tickets are to be nominated, as well as candidates for members of congress, and under the "Oregon plan" party candidates for United States senator to succeed Senator Elmer J. Burkett will be chosen.

The question of county option was brought before state platform conventions of both parties.

PLIGHTS TROTH TO STUDENT RESCUER

Saved Her From Death in the Ocean; Engagement Just Announced.

SAN RAFAEL, Aug. 15.—Coming as a sequel to the rescue of Loretta Wickman, the 18-year-old daughter of Dr. W. J. Wickman of this city, by Victor Lund in the ocean at Bolinas on August 3 last, the engagement of the young couple has become known.

The announcement of the betrothal will come as a surprise to the friends of both. While it has been known that there was something of an attachment between Miss Wickman and Lund, it was not thought that it had gone as far as an engagement.

Lund is the son of E. C. Lund, a local lumber dealer, and is prominent in athletic circles of the University of California, at which he is at present a student.

The rescue of the young woman, now his fiancée, by Lund was occasioned by Miss Wickman swimming far out while following behind Lund and his sister Louise, both of whom are splendid swimmers. She became exhausted and was compelled to call for help. Lund went to her aid and took her ashore.

20,000 Votes Did Not Kill Engineer

PLATTEVILLE, WIS., Aug. 15.—Alexander McMillan, son of a wealthy California farmer, received a 20,000-vote electric charge at the separating plant here at 10 o'clock Sunday morning and played a game of billiards in the afternoon.

McMillan brought his hand near one of the high voltage separators on the third floor and the current leaped from the machine, passing through his body and out through his feet. A workman immediately broke the circuit and McMillan fell unconscious to the floor, the workmen believing him dead. In a few minutes, however, he sat up and was found to be unhurt, except that his hand and foot were burned.

McMillan is an engineering student in the state mining school here and is the nephew of Nelson McMillan, a wealthy mining man of Claremont, Cal.

AIDA'S SOUL-STIRRING MELODY CHARMS IDORA PARK THROGS

TRAGIC LOVE STORY OF OLD EGYPT PRESENTED

Bevani Company Presents the Famous Musical Composition Before Big Crowd.

STARS SCORE HITS IN DIFFICULT ROLES

Elaborate Scenery and Costuming Proves Feature of Production at Idora.

Aida, most famous of Verdi's symphonic pictures of life, was presented by the Bevani Opera Company at Idora Park yesterday. The pathetic love story of old Egypt in the days of the Pharaohs was interpreted by the various stars in a manner which delighted the music-lovers which filled the house. The opera is the heaviest that has been attempted by the company, but the presentation was the most successful since the engagement of the Bevani troupe. The costumes and stage settings are also superior to any yet seen at the park, combining beauty and symmetry, with an attention to detail that is worthy of commendation.

AIDA WELL SUNG.

In the evening, was sung by Regina Victorino, and she imbued the part with fire and passion, inspiring the difficult scenes in a manner which thrilled her audience. Umberto Sacchetti, as Radames, the Egyptian warrior and lover of Aida, was excellent. He scored a triumph in the famous "Celeste Aida" solo in the first scene. Achille Alberti made an excellent Amoruso, father of Aida and Ethiopian king who falls captive to the Egyptian forces.

WINS MERITED PRAISE.

Another of the principals who won merited encores was Margaret Jarman, in the role of Amneris, daughter of the Egyptian monarch and who loves Radames. She is a new member of the cast and proved herself competent to fill the difficult contralto role. Her voice is full and rich, and she has an excellent stage presence.

The opera is famous for its soul-stirring duets and impressive choruses. The chants to Isis and the throbbing wail which underlies the arias prove a delight to all who are fond of music. The orchestra handled the difficult scores with rare ability.

STORY OF OPERA.

The story of Aida is based upon an old legend, relating to the wars of the Ancient Egyptians with the Ethiopians. Radames, a young warrior, is commanded by the King of Egypt to lead his army against Amoruso, King of Ethiopia. Radames loves and is loved by Aida, daughter of Amoruso, but who has been captured and is at present slave to the Princess Amneris. During the first scene he sings the famous "Celeste Aida."

The second scene shows the Temple of Vulcan, to which Radames is conducted by Ramphis and his priests, and invested with sword and shield.

The second act begins with a beautiful duet, in which Amneris shows so much kindness to her slave that Aida reveals her love for the absent warrior. Amneris then declares vengeance against her rival.

The next scene shows the triumphant return of the Egyptian army and Radames, their hero. He has brought back many prisoners, including Amoruso. Aida's father, the prisoner, is accompanied by Ramphis, comes to the Temple Isis, on the banks of the Nile, to pray. Soon Aida appears, and in the well known aria, "O patria mia," bewails the fact that she will never again see her father and her beautiful forests and wise rivers. Her father joins her and accuses her of being at heart the slave of the Egyptians, for if she were not she would save her country by beguiling Radames to desert the plans of the Egyptian army. At first Aida refuses, but finally consents to sacrifice her life's happiness to save her country.

CONDEMNED TO DEATH.

Radames, who has planned to see Aida once more before his approaching nuptials with Amneris, comes upon the scene, and once more declares his love. Aida repulses him, for if he really loved her would he not try to win her own? Radames at last yields and decides to die. He even tells her by what road the army will pass, in order that they may avoid it. This has been overheard by Amneris, and Radames is discovered that he has been tricked into betraying Egypt, and refuses to escape, giving up his sword to Ramphis, who appears at the temple door.

Radames, notwithstanding the efforts of Amneris to save him, has been sentenced to be buried alive in a tomb under the altar of Ptah. Aida, who with her father, has escaped the soldiers sent to recapture them, learns the fate of her lover, and resolves to die with him. She finds her way to the tomb before Radames is conducted there, and the last scene shows the two lovers, separated in life, happy to be united in death. Above in the temple Amneris and the priestesses chant a dirge for the dying Radames.

Giant Chokes Two Robbers to Death

EDWARDSVILLE, Ills., Aug. 15.—To the fact that David Jones of Edwardsville, sheriff of Madison county, owns a big touring car, John Burton of Alton probably owes his life. Burton admits that he choked to death a hanged hand struggle Leo Wentz and Lewis Weibrecht. The relatives of the men say that the feeling was so intense that Burton, who was the killing sheriff, did not wait for a trial, but ordered out his big motor and with two deputies went to the scene. He made the twenty-four mile round trip and had Burton in jail at Edwardsville before 3 o'clock this morning.

Burton, who is more than six feet in height and weighs 240 pounds, is a blundering steamroller. He was called to Martins by a hardware firm to install some fixtures. Yesterday Burton completed his work and with Wentz and Weibrecht he spent a portion of the afternoon at a saloon and then went to a dance.

Today Burton told the police that the two men tried to rob him and in a struggle he choked them both to death.

AVERAGE ACREAGE OF WHEAT SMALL

California Leads With 169 Acres Per Owner; North Dakota Next.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—Although the wheat fields of the Far West are generally supposed to be of extended acreage, the Bureau of Statistics of the Department of Agriculture has issued an estimate showing that in the states where those fields are largest, the average acreage is a little more than 100 acres.

California alone is an exception to this rule. In that state the average acreage reaches 169 acres. In North Dakota the average is 115 acres, in Washington 110 acres and Oregon 105 acres. Although there are some enormous fields of wheat in those states, the many smaller ones reduce the average size to that of an ordinary farm.

New England has the smallest wheat fields, the average acreage of such fields in amount being only three acres.

The values of both wheat and corn land are greatest in Illinois, where the average value is said to be $84 an acre for wheat and $130 for corn. The Central West shows prices ranging below that of Illinois. Land values in the Southern States are low, averaging $32 for wheat and $27 for corn land.
